NEW YORK, August 6.—The rise in prices to-day had the appearance of a righting in the market from the dip at yesterday's closing. There was, in fact, considerable rebuying of stocks sold short by the professional element yesterday on the assumption that the enactment of the tariff law would be followed by a movement to realize profits on the part of large holders of stocks, who have been accumulating them through a period of many months. No such realizing movement occurred to-day, and the uncovered bears were prompted to cover their short contracts. It is well recognized, however, that the enactment of the tariff law represents an objective point in time toward which much of the accumulation of stocks for a long time past has been directed.

The final disposition of the vexed tariff problem was looked forward to as a desirable end entity last dummer, and the possibility of restraint on business until it was settled, was an objection constantly urged against precipitate speculation in the stock market. The gradual expansion of business activity and the definite shaping of the prospect for the final form of the tariff law were incertives to active speculation in stocks. It is supposed that this speculation was in the hands, for the most part, of the more important class of capitalists and of green affiliated with the great corporations and banks.

The stock market has not offered evidence, at any time, of a broad general participation by the general puricipation in the controlled the action of the stock market throughout the recent advance. The object would be to facilitate the distribution, at the profitable high prices now prevailing, of the stock market thoughout the recent advance. The object would be to facilitate the distribution, at the profitable high prices now prevailing, of the stocks accumulated at the lower prices. Enactment of the tariff law yesterday brought no immediate response to-day r was actively renewed in the closing dealings, when the tone was very strong.

A very favorable report on the condition of the grain crops by the Agricultural Department is looked for on Monday, and this is relied upon to bring in some demand for stocks which will afford a basis for selling. The strength of the corn grangers to-day indicated the special hopes of a good showing for the corn crop condition. Spring wheat is also counted on to make a promising exhibit. This had something to do with the conspicuous place held by St. Paul in the transactions to-day. The price rose above 161 for the first time since the right to subscribe to new stock on profitable terms was accorded to stockholders in 1906. There was also discussion of the profitable possibilities for the traffic on the Pacific coast extension of the system, for which large growth is predicted.

Not much attention was paid to the forecasts of the currency movement in view of the continued case of the call money market. The operations at the Subtreasury this week have absorbed view of the continued ease of the call money market. The operations at the Subtreasury this week have absorbed ($5.132.000 from the banks, and this officially reported movement is much more reliable than the usual estimates of the express movement with the interior. Last week, for instance, the bank statement showed little trace of the estimated gain of $5.000,000, this week's estimates point to a curtailment of the loss to the Subtreasury by about $4.000,000. United States Steel's rise to 763-8, and Union Pacific's to 203 made new record prices for those stocks, and helped materially to the strong closing tone.

Bonds were firm; total sales, par value, $5.372.000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

NEW YORK, August 5-The cotton market showed continued nervousness to-day, and after a sharp early advance reacted, with the close steady at a net advance of il points on August and of 5 points on September, but generally unchanged to 2 points higher. The opening was steady at an advance of 4679 points in response to better cables than pected and continued dry, hot weather in the Southwest. During the early trading the market developed considerable strength as a result of coering, foreign buying and fresh spot cotton through commission houses. The detailed Texas weather report, showing very high temperatures, and the Western belt forecast for clear to partly cloudy weather, promoted the advance, together with reports that part of the foreign buying was in the way of hedging against new crop requirements. The upward movement was checked around 12.11 for January by a renewal of bear pressure and realizing by jocal scalpers who had bought at the opening. There was no change in the general character of crop

On Foreign Exchanges

LONDON, August 6.—Money was quiet and plentiful on the market today and discounts were steady. Trading on the Stock Exchange wan featureless, and business had a sluggish tendency and was irregular. Glitedged securities benefited by cheamoney, but home rails and kaiffrs surfered from realization and fack of support. Foreigners drooped on continental advices.

American securities opened about parity. Prices then sagged on the lack of support, but steadied later with the appearance of buying orders for the appearance of buying orders for the specialities.
